Normal

This wizard allows you to document how you work on your project in a structured way.

In order to document your project properly, you should include the following steps:

1. Goals
2. Plan
3. Project work
4. Evaluation
5. Goals assessment

It's important you take notes during your actual project work. You'll make good use of them here.

Reflections

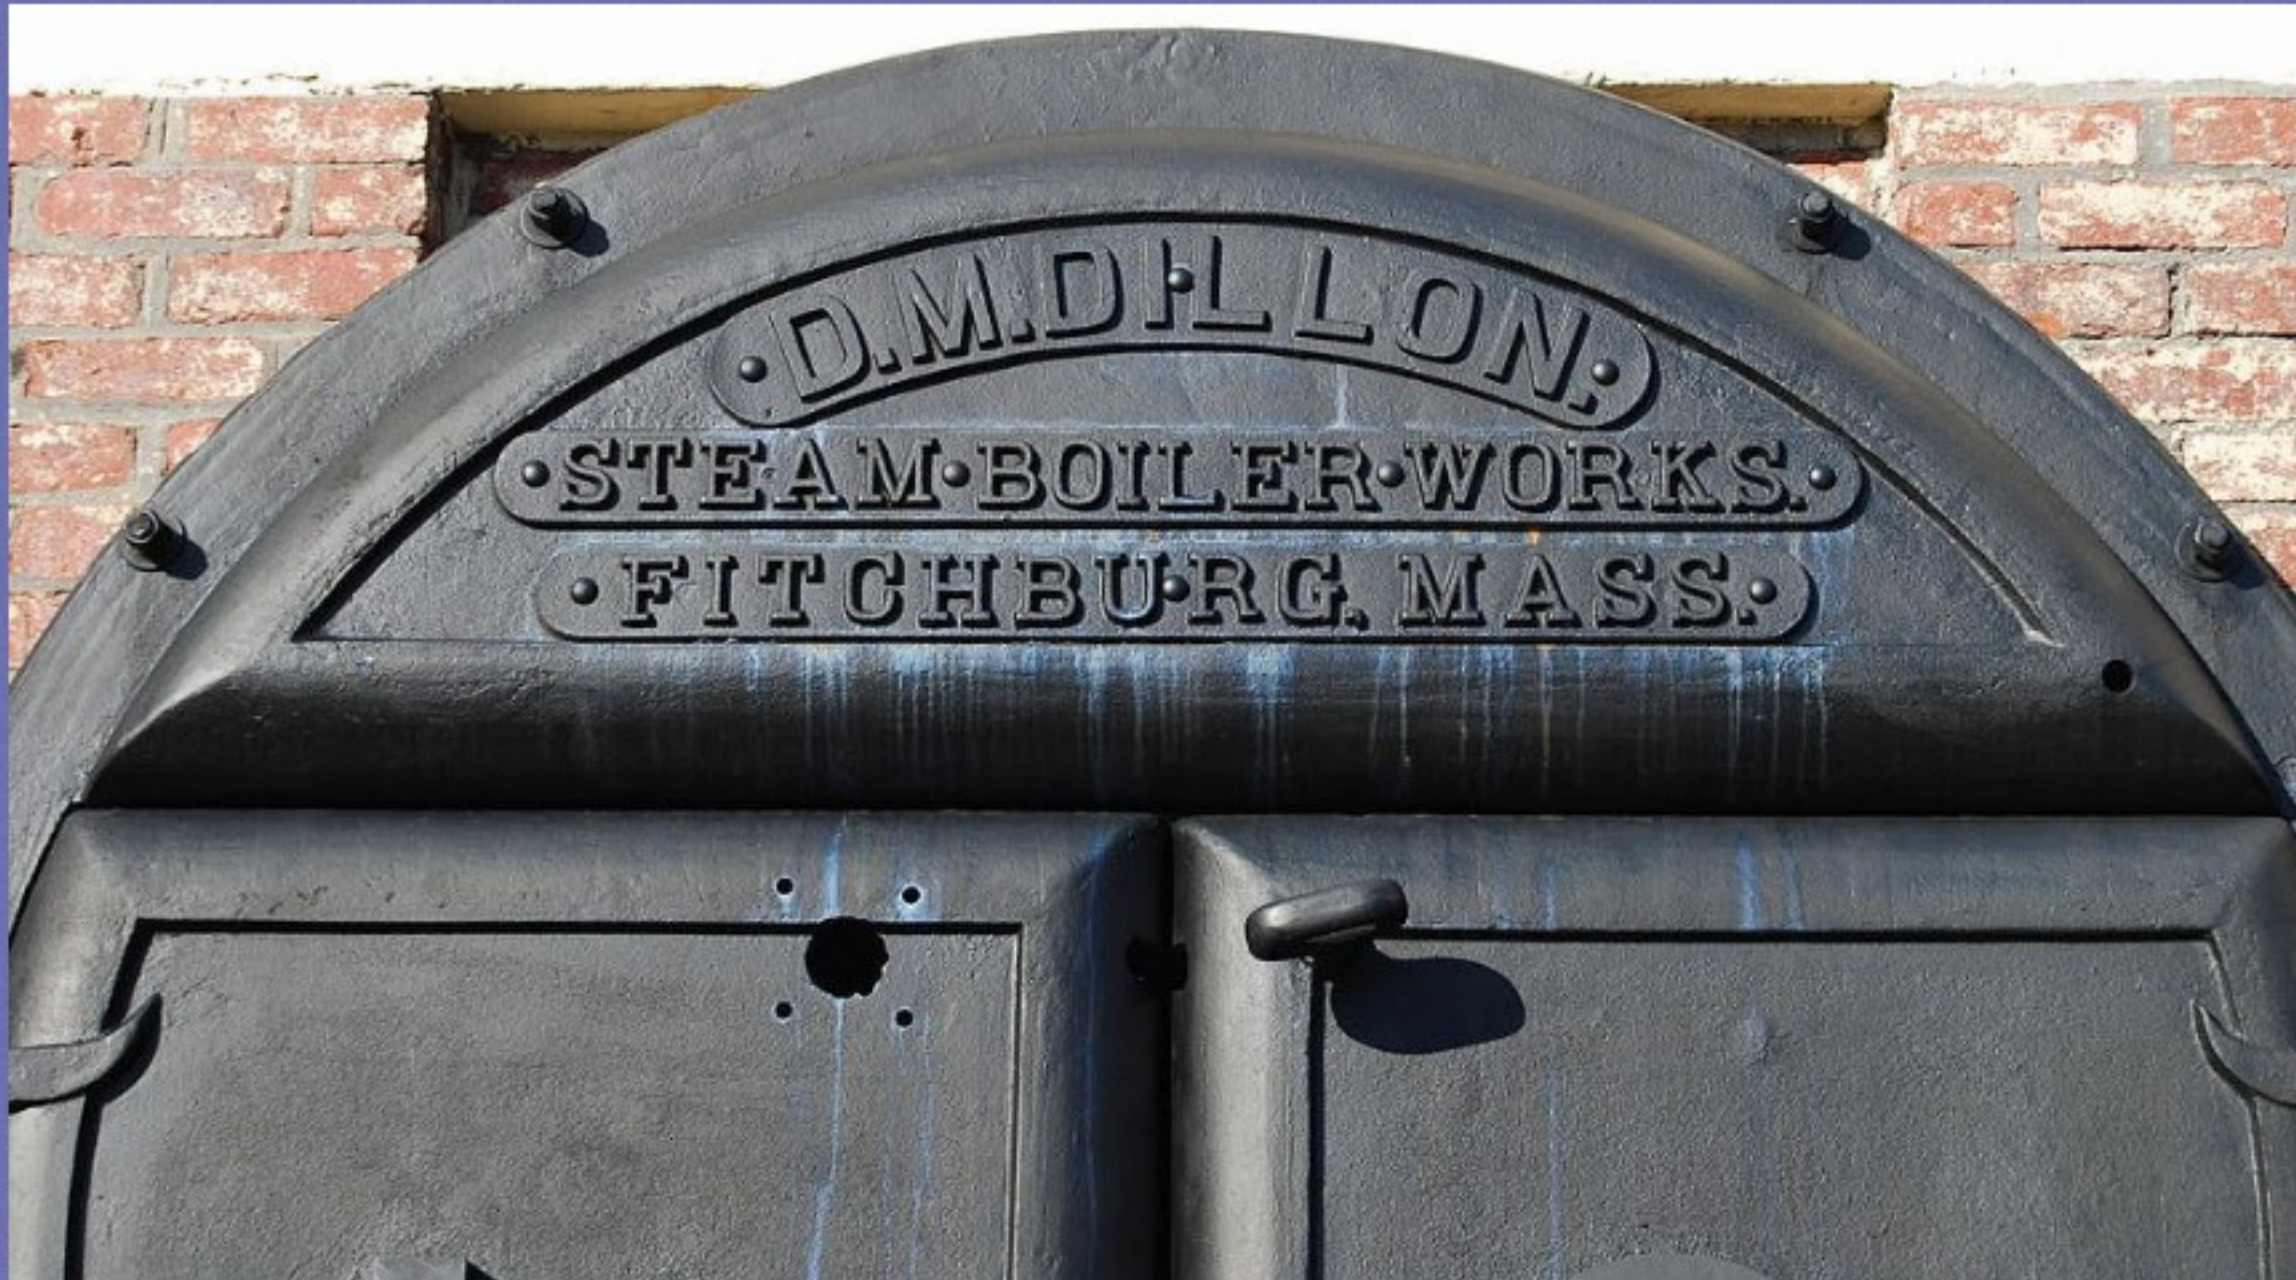

Whilst most people engage in reflection on a daily basis, much of this occurs in quiet moments by ourselves. Most students are not used to reflecting on their learning in a structured manner. They will need some help to develop skills in reflective thinking and writing

When Designing Keep In Mind

- the "size" and length of activity
- media choices
- interactivity

Let's Talk About Boilerplate

Ever found yourself re-writing the same thing over and over?

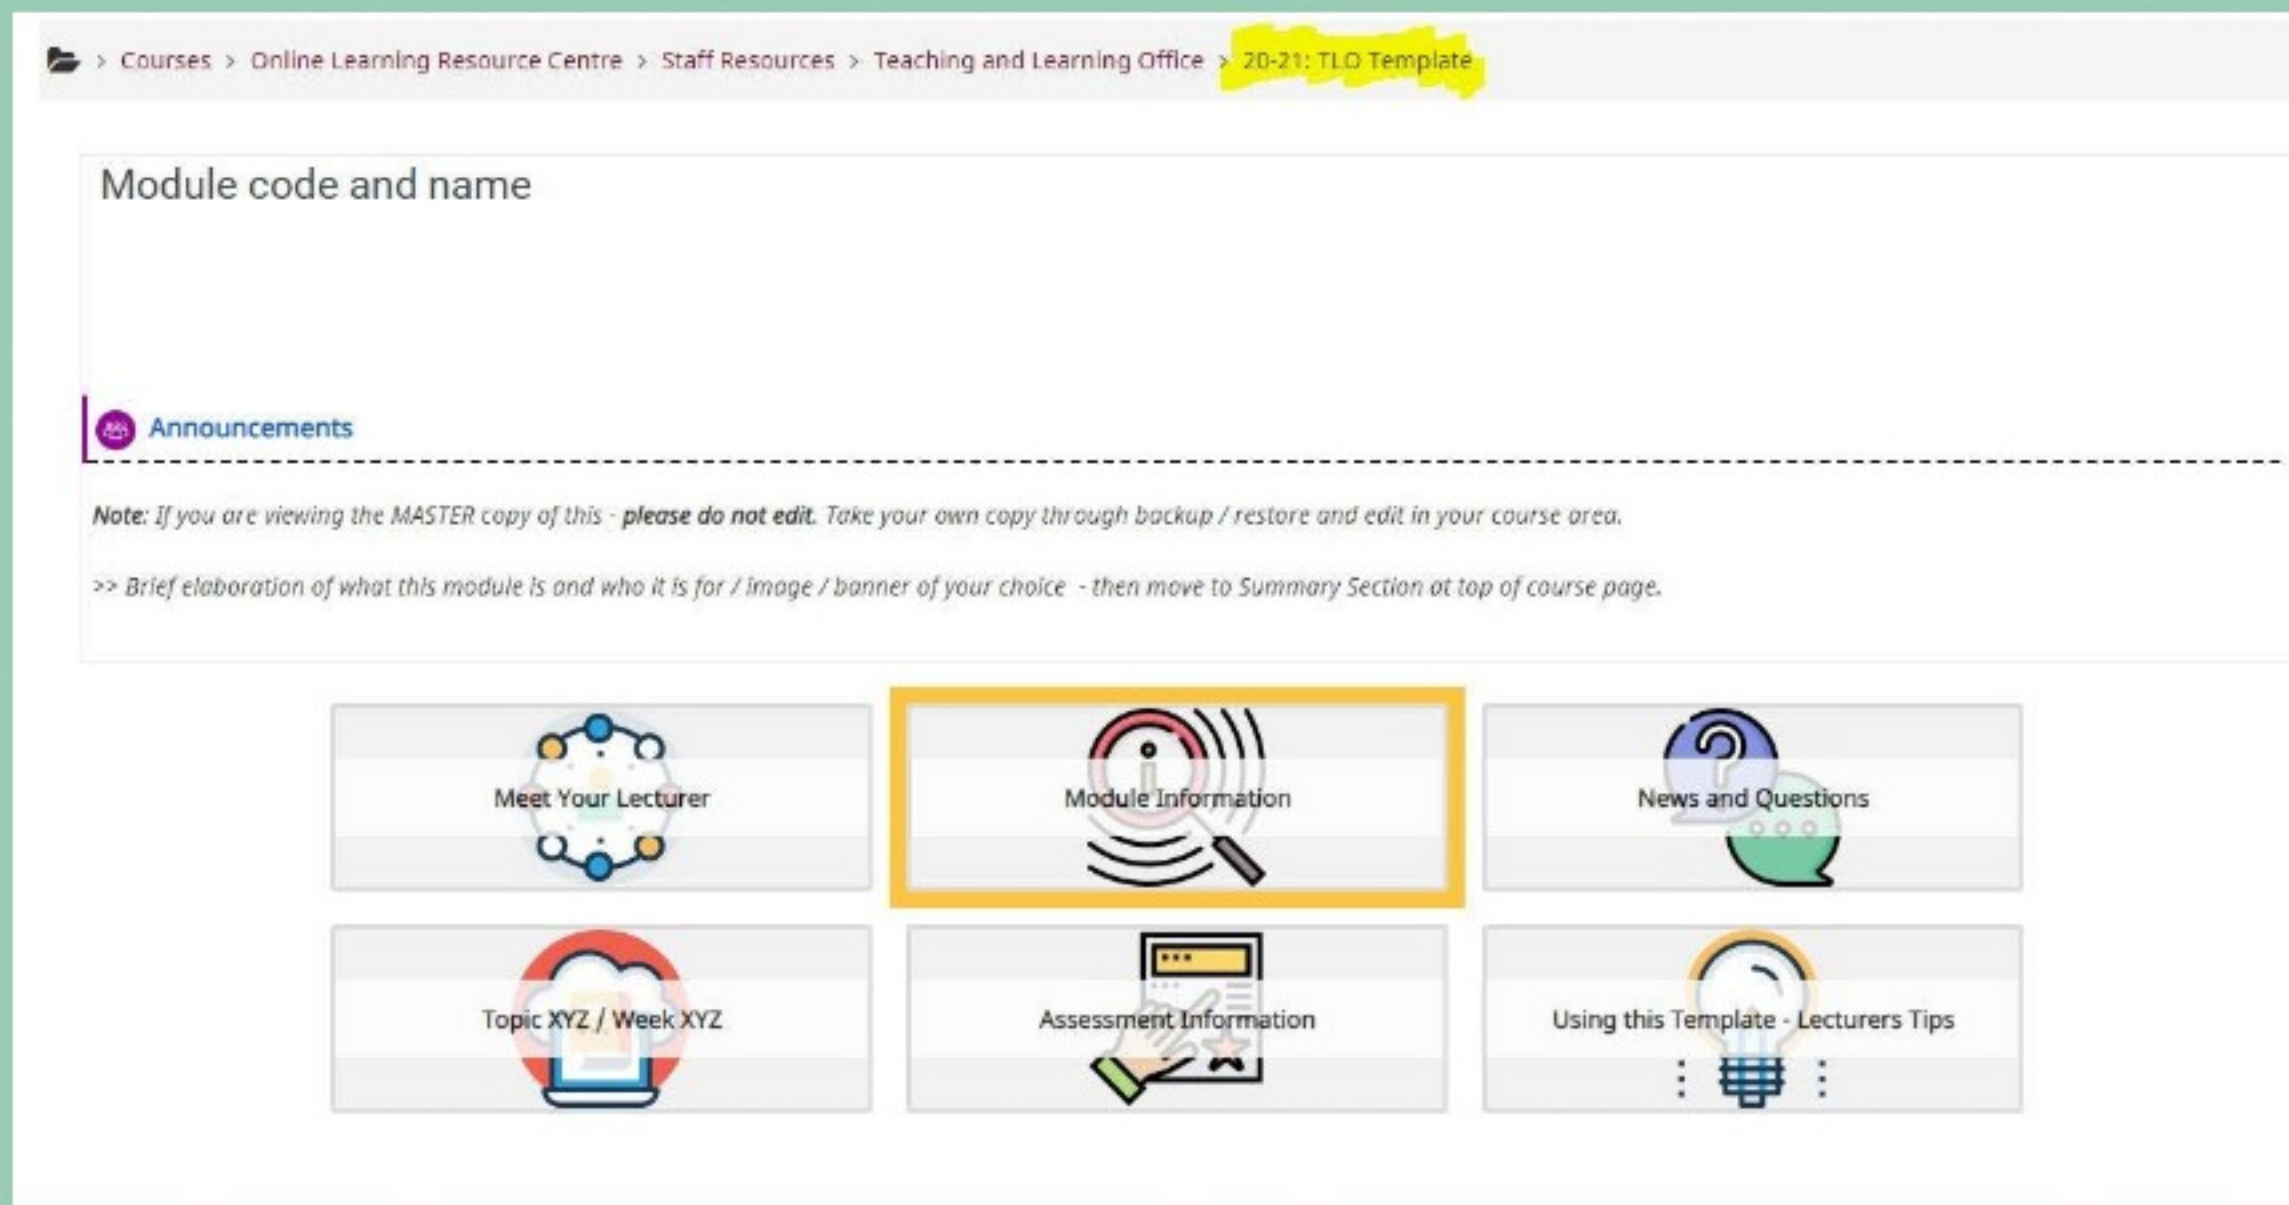

Use or want to use the same structure every semester?

Moodle Template

All your RLOs probably live within or are linked from your Moodle but what your Moodle page itself?

If you are making a new module or thinking about an overhaul - consider using a template. Avoid starting from scratch.
